Let's Start!

Show me pictures! The people are cool! Who are they?

Learning Outcome

Exchange basic personal information.

Ask your partner:

- Do you have pictures on your phone?
Show them to your partner!
- Who are the people?

Can Do Statements

- I can express who you are.
- I can say hello and goodbye.
- I can share personal information like he is my brother.
- I can describe people.

Let's Explore!

Pictures are great. You are not in Peter's picture. Who is?

* "You are" can be singular (one person), or plural. (two + people) E.g. You are my teacher. You are my classmates.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter: Hi, Sarah. How are you? Work is busy today!
Sarah: Hi, Peter. I am great, thank you. Yes, we are busy at work too. Nice picture!
Peter: Thanks. It is a picture from a party at my house.
Sarah: Oh, nice! Who are they?
Peter: They are my roommates—John, Samuel and Henry.
Sarah: He is cute. Roommate?
Peter: You are silly. He is not my roommate. He is my brother, Eric.
Sarah: Cool! Introduce me next time. Bye!

Let's Practice!

That's my* brother.

*This is personal information. It is about you, your family, your friends.

Learning Points

The Verb To Be with You, We, They

You use the verb to be to talk about people.
Read the examples. Say them aloud.

	Long Form	Short Form	Example
Singular	You are	You're	You're my friend.
Plural	You are We are They are	You're We're They're	You are all in my class. We are classmates. They are my roommates.

Using Adjectives

You use adjectives to describe people, places and things.
Adjectives come after the verb to be and before nouns (people, places and things).

Examples:

- You're nice.
- She is cool.
- He is a great roommate.
