Let's Start!

The teacher introduces herself and talks about her parents. How old are they?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use basic information in simple situations.

Ask your partner:

- How old are your grandparents?
- Do you think they are old?

Can Do Statements

- I can introduce myself to a class.
- I can talk about age.
- I can talk about who I am and who you are.
- I can complete a simple personal information form.

Let's Explore!

Listen to Ms. Tanaka talk about her parents. Where are they from? Let's find out!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Ms. Johnson: Good morning class. This is Ms. Tanaka. She is the new teacher. Ms. Tanaka, please introduce yourself.
- Ms. Tanaka: Good morning. My name is Reiko Tanaka. I am your teacher today. Are there any questions?
- Student: Tanaka—is that a Japanese name?
- Ms. Tanaka: Yes, my parents are from Japan. My grandparents live in Okinawa.
- Student: Really? How old are they? People in Okinawa can be very old, right?
- Ms. Tanaka: My grandmother, Naomi, is 102 years old and my grandfather, Ken, is 103 years old.
- Student: Wow!
